

U.S. NONTRAFFIC CHILD FATALITIES by STATE

1990-Present

These data VASTLY underestimate the true magnitude of this public health and safety issue

These data should be considered the absolute lower boundary of actual incidents. Currently there are no national or state surveillance systems in place to capture these data. This chart represents the incidents KIDS AND CARS has been able to uncover and document involving children <15 years of age.

www.KidsAndCars.org

December 2006