

Florida parents demand mandatory protective barriers at daycare centers

TODAY SHOW | March 01, 2015

Orange Country, Florida is expected to be the first in the nation to adopt a new standard for all daycare centers in which barriers are put in place strong enough to stop 5,000-pound vehicle. NBC's Kerry Sanders reports.

WATCH VIDEO: <http://www.today.com/video/today/57048413#57048413>